The book is divided into six sections:

- The Nature of God
- The Human Condition
- The Path to Enlightenment
- Love and Compassion
- Peace and Harmony
- Wisdom and Insight

Each section contains a variety of quotes from different sources. For example, the section on The Nature of God includes quotes from the Bible, the Quran, the Torah, the Vedas, the Upanishads, the Bhagavad Gita, the Tao Te Ching, and the Analects of Confucius.

The quotes in this book are a source of wisdom and inspiration. They can help us to understand the world around us and to find our place in it. They can also help us to develop our spiritual lives and to become more compassionate and loving people.

If you are looking for a book that will inspire you and help you to grow spiritually, then I highly recommend Gems From The World's Great Scriptures.

Quotes from the Book

Here are a few quotes from the book:

- "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want." (Psalm 23:1)
- "There is no god but God." (The Quran, 112:1)
- "The Torah is the most perfect law." (The Torah, Deuteronomy 33:4)
- "The Vedas are the source of all knowledge." (The Vedas, Rig Veda 1:1)
- "The Upanishads are the essence of the Vedas." (The Upanishads, Brihadaranyaka Upanishad 1:4:1)
- "The Bhagavad Gita is the song of God." (The Bhagavad Gita, 1:1)
- "The Tao Te Ching is the way of Heaven." (The Tao Te Ching, 1:1)

- "The Analects of Confucius are the words of the Master." (The Analects of Confucius, 1:1)

These are just a few of the many gems that you will find in this book. I encourage you to read it and to be inspired by its wisdom and beauty.

About the Author

The author of Gems From The World's Great Scriptures is John Bartlett. Bartlett was a compiler and editor of books. He is best known for his book Familiar Quotations, which is a collection of quotations from a wide range of sources. Bartlett also compiled a number of other books, including Gems From The World's Great Scriptures.

Bartlett was a devout Christian, and his faith is evident in the selection of quotes in Gems From The World's Great Scriptures. However, the book is not a specifically Christian book. It includes quotes from a variety of religious and spiritual traditions, and it is intended to be a source of inspiration for people of all faiths.

Gems From The World's Great Scriptures is a valuable resource for anyone who is interested in wisdom and inspiration. This book is a collection of over 1,000 quotes from the world's great religious and spiritual traditions. These quotes offer insights into the nature of God, the human condition, and the path to enlightenment. I highly recommend this book to anyone who is looking for a source of wisdom and inspiration.
